Desecration of Graves Punishable by Death

ATLANTA.—Desecration of a grave becomes a death penalty offense in Georgia under a law enacted by the current legislature.

Last November 19 two youthful brothers confessed they dug into the fresh grave of a woman at Logansville and mutilated her body. They drew maximum sentences.

The new law exempts archeological excavations and grave openings for authorized post-mortems.

Fish Clubbed to Death; Self-Defense Plea Wins

BOYNE CITY, MICH.—It is all right to kill a fish with a club in self-defense.

Youngsters playing on a Lake Charlevoix beach spied a pike, floating lazily. One of the boys touched the fish and it clamped its teeth in his hand, tearing the flesh. The boys pounced on the pike and beat it to death. It weighed 17 pounds.

Conservation officers said they would overlook the incident.

Aluminum in His Teeth; One Teapot Lost to U. S.

DANVILLE, PA.—Mont W. Knarr was bothered with his false teeth so he and a fellow mechanic melted down an aluminum teapot and made a new pair.

Knarr declares his new set of teeth are far superior to the old ones and several dentists who viewed the homemade teeth said they were almost perfect.

JODHPURS

Noun. A kind of close-fitting riding breeches.

Jodhpurs are named for the Indian state of Jodhpur in the Rajputana agency. The name should not be pronounced "JAHD-pers" or "JAHD-furs." The "o" in the first syllable is long as in "go"; the second syllable is exactly like the word poor with an "s" added: "JOED-poors."

(Note: Breeches should never be pronounced "BREE-ches" to rhyme with peaches. The correct rhyme is with pitches, as "BRITCH-ez.")

(Capitals indicate syllables to be accented.)

Question: Is it correct to use the word catty-cornered? G. F.

Answer: The word is properly cat-er-cornered. It means diagonally. It is most often mispronounced "catty-cornered" or "kitty-cornered." Other amusing variations of the expression are: "antegodlin; slaunchwise" and "catawampous."

Correct pronunciations:
First choice: KAT-er-KOR-nerd
Second choice: KAY-ter-KOR-nerd

Parachutist Strategy Dates From Franklin

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Benjamin Franklin had the idea of parachute troops back in 1783.

The Command and General Staff School Military Review" prints in its current issue the following excerpt from volume nine of Franklin's writings:

"Five thousand balloons, capable of raising two men each, could not cost more than five ships of the line; and where is the prince who can afford so to cover his country with troops for its defense as that 10,000 men descending from the clouds might not in many places do an infinite deal of mischief before a force could be brought together to repel them?"

Name English Woman, 33, As Only Female General

LONDON.—Slim, 33-year-old Mrs. Jean Knox took over control of the Women's Auxiliary Territorial branch of the army.

With the rank of major general—she sits at a big desk in the war office. The mother of a 14-year-old girl and wife of a Royal Air force squadron leader, she is the youngest general in the British army and the only woman general.

Elk Forget Manners to Woo My Lady Nicotine

SOUTH BEND, WASH. — Game Protector Josh Allen would be happier if his herd of North River elk hadn't taken up with Lady Nicotine.

Not that he minds their moral delinquency, he said—but they've become a traffic hazard. Allen said that elk now were in the habit of going on to the highway at all hours to "smooch" cigarettes from motorists.

Hobby Yields 200 Ingots Of Aluminum for Defense

SUFFERN, N. Y.—A mysterious stranger with a mysterious hobby drove to the community aluminum bin in this village and deposited 70 pounds of pure aluminum molded into about 200 cakes the size of muffins.

The stranger, who was about 30 years old, gave his name as Edward Strysko of Suffern, and said his hobby for the last 10 years had been to collect old aluminum and melt it down in his furnace into small ingots. When the nation-wide drive for aluminum opened he decided to contribute his hobby to national defense.

However, when village officials decided to inquire further into his hobby, they were unable to find any trace of Strysko. He is not listed on the tax rolls of the village or of Ramapo township in the outlying areas and he seemed to be unknown in Suffern.
